The Equity Scorecard™

The Equity Scorecard™ is both a process and a data tool developed by researchers at the Center for Urban Education (CUE), which is housed at the University of Southern California’s Rossier School of Education. As a process, the Equity Scorecard™ combines a theoretical framework with practical strategies to initiate institutional change that will improve outcomes for all students as well as close gaps experienced by students from underrepresented racial-ethnic groups. What’s unique about it is the engagement of individuals from different departments and divisions in an evidence team which investigates campus data, practices and policies. Using CUE’s quantitative and qualitative data and inquiry tools for problem-solving, evidence team members become experts on what their campus is doing, and what it could do better, to close gaps and improve success for all students. Near the conclusion of the process, the team completes a Scorecard which captures the results of its investigations and campus-specific recommendations for change.

For more information, please visit CUE’s website: http://cue.usc.edu/