Capitalizing on Capital Projects

To Launch a Culture of Innovation and Collaboration
Topics for the Panel

• Early experimentation with pedagogy, technology, and spatial relationships in anticipation of a project

• Visioning exercises for pedagogy and developing goals for student learning as part of building planning

• Faculty preparation to teach in/use the new space as a means of continued engagement during the project

• The challenges of success: anticipating the unexpected consequences of new academic spaces after the project

• Strategies to sustain innovation and collaboration after the project.
Speakers

- CAROLYN NEWTON, Professor of Biology and Provost, The College of Wooster
- DAN DRESSEN, Professor of Music and Associate Provost, St. Olaf College
- MARIANNE BEGEMANN, Associate Professor of Chemistry, Dean of Strategic Planning and Academic Resources, Vassar College
- JIM SWARTZ, Dack Professor of Chemistry, Director of the Center for Science in the Liberal Arts, and former Dean of the College, Grinnell College
- MARCI SORTOR, Professor of History and Provost and Dean of the College, St. Olaf College
Table Discussion

• Choose a question for discussion
• Choose a recorder
• Leave the recorder’s note sheet on the table
• To receive a summary of the tables’ discussions, add your email to the recorders’ note sheet