

The Barzinji Project

for Innovation in Higher Education Through International Collaboration

Mission of the Project

Together participating universities will explore issues surrounding higher education in a range of political, cultural, and economic environments, recognizing that globalization can facilitate mutually beneficial collaboration between widely dispersed institutions.

Jamal Barzinji

Jamal Barzinji was a Muslim American intellectual and humanitarian who was interested in international collaborations, interfaith relations and global exchange.

In the US

Bosnian Delegates at the Frontier Culture Museum, Bethany Galipeau-Konate and Syahirah Isham, Delegates at Shenandoah University

Bosnia

Shenandoah University and Bridgewater College Delegates at the famous bridge of Mostar

Malaysia

Shenandoah and Bridgewater Delegates at Putrajaya, the administrative capital of Malaysia

Barzinji Fall Colloquium 2019

Delegates come together for the Fall Colloquium to discuss innovation in higher education. Topics included dialogue and discourse, race and ethnicity, education in a diverse society and successful global exchanges